OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 10, 1863

The Rush to the Mines.

We hear every day of the proposed departure of farmers and mechanics to the mining regions, and the prospect now is that more than half of the voting population of the Willamette valley will be absent from their homes for the season after the first of April. We suppose it is idle to attempt to persuade those who have made up their minds to go on a fancy chase to the gold fields, that they will be wiser, richer and safer, if they stay at home, and, therefore, we will not waste time and paper in doing so, we hope that every one will meet the success he anticipates, but we know as well as we know we live, that every dollar which Oregonians bring from the mines, costs five, without considering the exposure and hardships which are unavoidable. Their rich mines are on their farms, and, though they cannot see them, and are fascinated and led away by the distant glitter of the sparkling ore, they may be sure that the short and safe highway to wealth and comfort runs by their homes; of this they will be fully convinced in six months by the severe experience through which they are preparing to pass, and we should be glad for their sake, not less than for the aggregate prosperity of the State, if they would be persuaded now that it is so. For years our people have passed through all this bitter discipline,—going away in the Spring, wild and infatuated by the brilliant bubble which speculators blow up in their sight, and returning in the early Winter, deploring the miseries they have endured, cursing their bad luck and the stupid folly which made them waste a summer—and they swear they never will do so again, but as the Spring comes along,—they hear that in "Satan's Ravine," or the "Devil's Diggings," or on the banks of "Perdition Creek," somebody has taken out $740 a day to the man—they cannot resist the temptation to go again, in the hope of meeting the same fabulous luck, and they say "they always knew just such a place—they camped there when they crossed the plains," or there is some other good reason, and off they go,—leaving the old woman with four young ones, a lame mare and a blind mule to carry on the farm—and repeat the experience of previous years. Well, we cannot help it,—we suppose they would not heed the voice of an angel, if by it they were forbidden to go, and assured that in the quiet cultivation of the soil they would be made twice as rich at the end of the year—so we bid them God-speed, and again express our wishes for their health and prosperity. When they return, we trust they will be more contented with the sure fortunes they have in their grasp, if they had but the patience to gather and secure them.

The Commercial says that appeals to the Democracy in the name of patriotism have been "played out" long ago. That is true as to the kind of Democrats to which our neighbor belongs, and which it seeks to represent. In our article yesterday, we did not address that faction; it is deaf as an adder to everything but party appeals, while for party and for slavery, which has lived on such a miserable faction, and is now dying with it, it would sacrifice the country and its blessings. That kind of Democracy has never offered food for powder except on the rebel side, and if, as the Commercial suggests, "it has pretty much quit doing so," Jeff Davis will have no more recruits from the ranks of Northern traitors. Perhaps they imagine that they can serve their master more effectually by endeavoring to resist the power of the Government at home, by coward knavery, and by all the mean and dishonorable practices that make spies and traitors more dangerous than open foes, and therefore they propose to adopt schemes looking to the surrender of the Union to the armed cohorts of slavery and secession. We shall see, and as their plans are developed we trust that loyal men will watch and punish the malignant foe in ambush, not less than the rebel in the field.

Another Base Yankee Trick.—The State of Massachusetts, for the purpose of relieving the General Government in its present financial difficulties, and to save the troops from suffering for want of pay, has advanced sufficient money to meet the claims of every regiment from the State, and will wait till it is convenient for Uncle Sam to make it right. Was ever such iniquity heard of? It is an outrage that must not be tolerated by a free people. We expect a howl from the Peace Democracy because of this interference with the General Government, that will go far towards driving the old "Puritan mother" from the Union, and make every one of her sons ashamed of the ancient Commonwealth.—But then it is just like her, she loves to do generous and patriotic deeds, and of course justly merits the contempt and abuse of every traitor, and ought to be out of a Union, when they are in and control it.

The New York Tablet thinks there are not less than 200,000 men in the Union army today of Irish birth or lineage.

Miscellaneous Items

Illinois has grown 22,000 bales of free labor cotton.

All the officers of the 73d Illinois regiment are Methodist ministers of the Gospel.

The failures in New York for 1861 were $173,000,000, for 1862, 24,000,000.

A Mr. Friswell, of Springfield, Mo. has offered to sell all his slaves for $300 a head. Not a bidder.

The quantity of sorghum syrup produced in Ohio the present year is estimated at about 15,000,000 gallons.

The losses of the Massachusetts regiments in the battle at Fredericksburg were ninety-nine killed, seven hundred and forty eight wounded and seventy one missing.

It is understood that in future the sick and wounded soldiers who may arrive in New York will at once be forwarded to the hospitals in their respective States, where the regiments were organized.

It is positively said, that when a leading Democrat asked through a "medium" on what terms Jeff Davis would return to the Union, he was answered politely and promptly, "None! The separation is eternal!"

Mr. Stille, of Boston, has published a pamphlet, showing that if England could maintain her gigantic war against Napoleon for twenty three years, and triumph in the end, so can we. His parallel is very ingeniously carried out.

A boy eight years old fell through a hole in the ice, at Athens, N. Y. recently, and after floating for a distance of 120 feet, was taken out alive and conscious. The little fellow kept his hand clasped tightly over his mouth and nose, so that no water entered his body.

For the first time since the war opened, the supply of arms is ahead of the demand, at least, for the first time there is an accumulation at the Springfield Armory. From 30,000 to 40,000 new rifles are now on hand, packed and ready for shipment. The Armory turns out about 1,000 muskets per day.

The Managers of the Cincinnati Orphan Asylum have addressed a touching note to the Governor of Minnesota, offering a home in their Institution to the children made orphans by the recent massacre of citizens of that State by the Indians. In the house offered more than 6,000 destitute children have already been sheltered and cared for.

The Washington Star, in a long article upon the present situation and military anticipations, says the prospect for the success of our arms was never brighter than at this time. Those informed upon the Government's military plans, conditions and positions of our forces, supplies, etc., are well aware of the fact, however ignorant of it the public at a distance may be.

Some seventy five citizens of Boston have subscribed $9,114 for the benefit of the Western Sanitary Commission, located at St. Louis. Yet the Copperheads—many of whom have not subscribed the first dollar for our sick and wounded soldiers, but rather villify them as Hessians, cut-throats, etc.—are howling until they become hoarse for "reconstruction," with New England left out.

Mr. Galt, formerly Prime Minister of Canada, recently addressed the Manchester Chamber of Commerce on the relations between Canada and England, saying that were Canada turned adrift she would retain a most bitter feeling towards Great Britain, and immediately join the United States. The answer made by Manchester, through Mr. Ashworth, a leading man, was that the quicker the Canadians took themselves off the better England would like it.

A Washington correspondent of the Tribune asserts that out of 800 Austrian muskets furnished to a New York regiment, 134 were broken without ever having been in use, that 666 the entire remainder were worthless; that not half of these could be fired at all, and that those that would go off would be as apt to damage the soldiers as to kill the enemy. The only way in which these muskets could be discharged was by striking the caps with a bayonet or a stone.

The Beau Ideal.—The ideal "Peace Democrat" is a voluble man, with a revolver in his pocket, a bowie knife in the back of his coat, a sword in his cane, and other tracts of the gospel of peace on his person. His face is wreathed in smiles at the announcement of rebel victories. He always has "private dispatches" when Union triumphs are reported, putting an entirely different complexion on the news. He thinks Lincoln imbecile. He is solicitous that the conservative policy shall prevail. The Constitution is rolled as a sweet morsel under his tongue. He decides all constitutional questions with a readiness that is humiliating to the shade of Daniel Webster, and makes one feel sorry for the Supreme Court of the United States. He has a strange notion that to restore the "Union as it was" it is absolutely necessary to recognize the independence of the Confederate States. He is opposed to war on principle, but hears with a smile of satisfaction that France and England are going to unite, break the blockade and precipitate a war with the United States in behalf of the Southern Confederacy. He has his preferences among Union Generals grows at the shameful treatment of McClellan and is very free in expressing the opinion that unless "Little Mac" is speedily restored the country will go to ruin. He also cherishes great admiration for the generalship of Buel. There are no words hot enough to express his indignation at the treatment received by Fitz John Porter. He believes Butler to be a second Haynau, Grant a drunken pretender, and Hooker a good enough brigadier but unequal to the profound strategy of the Chickahominy. He is all ablaze with hatred of the "Abolitionists," who brought on this unnatural war, sir, and who, in his opinion, ought to be hung drawn and quartered without benefit of clergy or judicial interposition. In point of fact, when all other traits of feeling and sentiment are carefully covered up, you may identify the "Peace Democrat" at once and unmistakably by the frequent ebullitions of hatred and contempt for the "Abolitionists," to which generic term he usually prefixes a strong adjective signifying that their proper abode is in the pit of perdition. The "Peace Democrat" is one of the curiosities of American politics, and deserves to be photographed for the delectation of posterity.—Sac Union

Voters and Children.—There are in Salem about 500 voters, and 535 souls between the ages of four and twenty years—290 of them males and 245 females.

Disaffection in the Army.—The editor of the N. Y. Times writing from the camp of the Army of the Potomac, says

We know it is said that the army is dissatisfied with the war. It is an unmitigated falsehood—precisely of the same sort as the lies which declared that there would be resignations and mutinies if McClellan were removed, or if the Emancipation Proclamation were issued. That there are a few individual renegades both among officers and men, we don't doubt. There never yet was a great army without such, and there never will be until human nature is purged of its last particle of baseness. But these scurvy minds have always been so few that they have not, in the slightest degree, affected the character of the army at large. And they are daily becoming fewer. Burnside and Rosecrans have taken particular pains to expose them and give them their deserts, and no one who knows anything of "fighting Joe Hooker" can suppose that they will fare any better at his hands. We are speaking of the false hearted. As to mere differences of opinion, nobody questions that they exist. Some like and some dislike the Emancipation Proclamation. Some prefer this style of campaigning and some that; some this General and some the other. Some have the idea that the Administration at Washington bungles inexcusably, others that, all things considered, it does about as well as could be expected.—These and similar differences are unavoidable.

After mentioning the loyal demonstrations of the Indiana troops under Rosecrans, the same article concludes that the assistant rebels of the North will never get the battle stained flag of the Union in the dust at the feet of the traitor Davis.

Even if—which is in itself an impossibility—they could so drug the senses of the people that they would passively endure it, the national army would not. It is not in the soldier's nature to consent to any such cowardly and abject submission. He will lower that flag at the call of no traitor, or combination of traitors, South or North. He has sworn to defend it, and to plant it where it belongs. Every impulse of his military nature, as well as every patriotic instinct, invokes him to fulfill that oath, and the blood of his comrades cries to him from the ground with a yet more dread solemnity to be true to it. He will be true to it, every rebel, every conspirator and every factious demagogue to the contrary notwithstanding.

Letter from Baring Brothers & Co.—The following letter will explain itself:

London, December 27, 1862.

C. H. Marshall, New York—Dear Sir: We thank you for your valued letter of the 28th ultimo, the contents of which have had our careful consideration. The nature of our commercial relations with the United States naturally draws our attention to any event that threatens the safety of the ships and cargoes of our friends, and we are considering in conjunction with other British merchants, what steps can be taken to prevent any ships like the Alabama escaping in the future.

The fitting out of the Alabama is believed (although she was not armed in a British port) to be a breach of the laws of the country, and we have every reason to hope that the British Government will be watchful to prevent their violation in future.

We are much obliged for the kind expressions contained in your letter, and wishing you many happy returns of the season, remain, dear sir,

Very truly yours,
Baring Bros & Co.

Revenue Stamps.—A Washington correspondent writes that the Treasury Department will send a special messenger—C. H. Parsons—by the next steamer to California, with $750,000 of revenue stamps, of which $500,000 are for San Francisco, and the balance for Portland, Oregon.

A PLUM FOR THE DISCONSOLATE —Harper's Weekly gets off the following good thing on John Van Buren:

There is one consolation in contemplating the proclamation, and that is, that one man, at least, is pleased. What man? No other than our wayward sister Van Buren On the 13th of July, 1849, he made a speech in the city of Cleveland, Ohio. Will you taste a plum from it, this fine morning? Here it is, [illegible]

"Yet there is one thing which remains to be done to perfect this proud fabric [the Government] and render it as enduring as time Strike the manacles from the slave, and elevate him to the position of a moral, rational, intelligent, and if need be, a political being!"

It is clear what Van Buren went to Washington for. It was to urge the President not to falter. And the President has done the very thing which our wayward sister thought was the only thing wanting to make the Government eternal.

[illegible] Market.

[illegible] Front street, No. 2, Coach's Addition, will be opened to-day by Messrs. WEEKS, GILMORE & CO., Proprietors, for the accommodation of the public, and [illegible] may be assured that it will be equal to any on the Pacific Coast, where none but the best quality of meats will be kept for sale. The Proprietors are well known to the whole [illegible] community for their fair dealing in the [illegible] of their other first-class Markets—the Empire on [illegible] street and the Franklin on Taylor street [illegible] March 10, 1863.—tf

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches" or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them useful for clearing and strengthening the voice See advertisement. dec16d&w3m

White's Fever and Ague Drops For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success Indeed, in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure in Ague especially one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

The GREAT SUCCESS of this CENTURY is in AID to PRACTICAL MEDICINE

The Mysterious Problem of Material Nature The only [illegible] Agent for the Cure of all Nervous and Spinal Diseases

THAT THE PRINCIPLE SUCCESSFULLY APPLIED [illegible] proved the great [illegible] physicians to all [illegible] It is a part of that great [illegible] and [illegible] to do [illegible] exciting diseased action

Too Much Cannot be Said

To the Ladies of California.

Dr Van Zandt's success with complaints of women both in family and office practice is owing to his correct views of the [illegible] maladies. Ladies can consult him with [illegible] he is no specialist or [illegible]—but is [illegible] the only member of the legitimate profession in California who is really successful in removing the maladies which are the peculiar province of the sex If a high appreciation of their delicately attuned nervous organism together with their great sympathetic life [illegible] those silent complaints [illegible] they bear so patiently and so long No [illegible] longer afflict our home circles for he can awaken the stricken energies restore the wonted [illegible] of the body awaken the melancholic and despondings arrest the [illegible] which cause so much anxiety cure those protean maladies which have so long

All the world over

wherever disease exists whether special to the soil and climate or common to all regions—epidemic or casual, acute or chronic contagious or non-contagious—it is as necessary to restore the ELECTRO-GALVANIC equilibrium, especially in California, as it is to give food to the starving This statement is based upon a series of facts extending through many years and verified by hundreds of patients so that no principle of science, no rule of experience, no result of any well known cause rests upon more sure and unassailable foundations than those which underlie the world-wide reputation of Electricity for the cure of all nervous states [illegible] digestion [illegible] and physical debility or prostration [illegible] asthma wandering pains of a rheumatic gouty or neuralgic character and all forms of disease the result of scrofula or cachectic habit of body

None Need Despair of Relief.

If you have ulcers which will not heal—pains that can [illegible] melancholy which you cannot shake off—loss of power which you cannot regain—depression of spirits which weigh you down—wakefulness that knows no sleep [illegible] want of energy—a void which no society can fill—suspicion which no assurance can allay—Go to Dr Van Zandt, for his great success and the safety with which he administers his new method of electrical [illegible] with his remedies which are adapted to the requirements of climate and constitution will assure you of a complete and radical removal of all bodily and mental infirmities, within the scope of science and man to remove

The Eye and Ear Diseases.

It must not be forgotten by the eye and ear sufferers that Dr Van Zandt has made these afflictions an especial study and that he is the only Surgeon in our State who has a diploma for that branch of practice Very many of the eye and ear troubles are purely deranged nervous action and are cured by his electro-galvanic battery—as amaurosis, squinting cataract floating specks before the vision twitching of the eyelids nervous deafness, roaring and buzzing noises in the ears giddiness etc All operations successfully done on those delicate organs of sense

Song of the American Girl.

Our hearts are with our native land
Our song is for her glory ,
Her warrior s wreath is in our hand,
Our lips breathe out her story
Her lofty hills and valleys green
Are shining bright before us ;
And like a rainbow sign is seen
Her proud flag waving o er us

And there are smiles upon our lips
For those who meet her foemen,
For glory s star knows no eclipse
When smiled upon by women
For those who brave the mighty deep,
And scorn the threat of danger,
We've smiles to cheer—and tears to weep
For every ocean ranger

Our hearts are with our native land,
Our song is for her freedom
Our prayers are for the gallant band
Who strike where honor leads them ,
We love the taintless air we breathe,
'Tis freedom's endless bower,
We'll twine for him an endless wreath
Who scorns a tyrant s power

They tell of France s beauties rare,
Of Italy's proud daughters
Of Scotland s lassies—England s fair
And nymphs of Shannon s waters
We need not boast their haughty charms,
Though lords around them hover ,
Our glory lies in freedom s arms—
A Freeman for a lover

Obedience of a Roman Soldier

I once made a visit to an old city which had been buried by an earthquake nearly two thousand years ago. It is called Pompeii, and is about fifteen miles from the city of Naples.

During the earthquake which destroyed Pompeii an immense quantity of ashes and cinders were thrown out from the crater of Mount Vesuvius, a volcano about two miles off

The wind blew those ashes and cinders directly over the doomed city, burning and destroying all the roofs of the houses, and covering up the walls about forty feet deep so that for more than fifteen hundred years no one knew where the city had stood The spot was all covered over with trees and bushes , but it was accidentally discovered about a hundred years ago, and people have been busily engaged since that time digging it out There they find the streets, the pavements and brick walls of the stores and houses, besides an immense variety of curious things, such as statues, paintings, mirrors, spoons, knives, combs, etc. These curious things have been taken away and safely placed in the Museum at Naples.

It is thought that when the ashes began to fall on the city the people fled from their homes, so that very few lives were lost

When I visited or walked about the old streets, among other things I saw in the court yard of one of the excavated public buildings a dark colored place on the wall, about as high as my head. The guide, who went about to explain things, told me that this spot was caused by a human skeleton, which, in digging out this building, they found leaning against the wall at this place. It was the skeleton of a soldier, for on his head was still found his brazen helmet, and at his feet the point of his spear, his sword and other pieces of his armor. It had fallen to this soldier's lot to stand on guard before that public building on the day of the great eruption which covered up the city. As it was forbidden a Roman soldier, under pain of death, to leave his post without orders, this faithful sentinel, with his sword by his side and his spear at his shoulder, had paced up and down before that house all that terrible day. He saw the terrified inhabitants hurrying away from their pleasant homes, but he alone stood, firm as a rock, with the falling ashes heaped up around him, and the fiery cinders beating like hail on his helmet. He had received no orders to leave, and up and down he continued his firm and undaunted step At last, overcome by the fiery tempest, he grasped firmly in his hand his faithful weapon, leaned himself by the wall and died, like a brave man, at his post. The next day I went into the Museum at Naples and saw the skull of the soldier still sticking in his brazen helmet, and on a shelf near by lay pieces of his bones and fragments of his broken armor

What a beautiful exhibition of heroic obedience was the conduct of that Roman soldier! As I gazed on the spot where he died and listened to the simple story of his faithfulness, and especially as I afterwards took the sad relics of his fate in my hands while in the Museum, I was more deeply impressed by these memorials of a true hero than by all the rest of the curious things which I saw in Pompeii.

Obedience in a soldier is a cardinal virtue. It is of all other qualities the first and most important. But it is a beautiful trait of character among other people besides soldiers, and especially in children. I have seen children openly disobey their parents This is a sad sight; for if a child will not obey his parents it is very likely that he will never learn to obey God. But let children be early taught promptly to obey their parents and they are in the path of learning to submit to the will of the great parent above. The obedience which God requires is implicit, that is, his children are to obey him in all things, whether they can understand the reason for it or not. The Roman soldier dying at his post rather than disobey his orders is a truthful illustration of that obedience which all God's creatures should render to him

Legal Tender Notes in Indiana.—A case has been decided in the Supreme Court of the State of Indiana, in which the constitutionality of legal tender notes was the issue involved The case was one of the strongest which could be made against legal tender notes, as the defendant—the State Bank of Indiana—offered to redeem its bills with legal tenders, instead of specie, which its charter required it should pay, or be bound to pay the holder twelve per cent. interest. The bank tendered the amount in treasury notes, the plaintiff—John Reynolds—refused legal tender notes, and brought suit to recover the specie from the bank In due course the case was carried to the Supreme Court of the State, the interior Courts having decided in favor of their constitutionality. The opinion of the highest Court in the State was delivered by Justice Perkins, and [illegible] to have been unanimously concurred in by [illegible] members The Court considers the question of the constitutional power of Congress to make paper money a legal tender, one which is surrounded by grave doubts, but as such vast public interests are involved in the matter, it holds that legal tender notes were constitutionally issued until the Federal Court should rule otherwise.

Human Nature.—They tell a story of two bachelor brothers, who lived a sort of cat and dog life, to their neighbors' discomfort, for a good many years, but who had been at a camp meeting, were slightly converted, and both of them concluded to reform

"Brother Tom," says one, when they had arrived at their home, "let us sit down now, and I'll tell you what we'll do. You tell me all my faults, and I'll tell you all of your'n, so we'll know how to get a mending 'em "

"Good !" says Brother Tom

"Well, you begin,"

"No, you begin, brother Joe "

"Well, in the first place, you know, brother Tom, you will lie?"

Crack goes brother Tom's double fist between brother Joe's "blinkers," and a considerable of a "scrimmage" ensued, until, in the course of about ten minutes, neither being able to come to time, reformation was postponed sine die.

Proclamation by the Governor.

Executive Office, Portland, Oregon,
January 6, 1863

By the President of the United States through Brigadier General George Wright commanding the Department of the Pacific and Brigadier General Benjamin Alvord, commanding the District of Oregon, I have been requested to raise six additional companies, required to complete the 1st Regiment of Cavalry, Oregon Volunteers. They will be needed the coming Spring on the frontiers of this State and Washington Territory and for an expedition against the Snake Indians who have so long been mercilessly engaged in robbing emigrants and murdering our fellow citizens. I cannot doubt that the citizens of Oregon, who have always promptly responded to any demand for their military services, will in like manner respond to this call, thereby showing their loyalty to the Government, and aiding in chastising marauding bands of Indians which infest our frontiers

The enlisted men, when mounted, will be supplied with horses by the United States, it being understood that they will be mounted or not, as shall be deemed advisable by the Government

Propositions to raise a whole company, which will furnish their own horses and horse equipments, may be entertained The men are in such cases entitled to forty cents a day for the use and risk of their horses and horse equipments

Each company will consist of one hundred enlisted men, and when mustered into the service of the United States to serve for three years, unless sooner discharged

Recruiting offices will be immediately opened at Portland, Dalles City, and perhaps at other places By the Governor,
ADDISON C GIBBS

Cyrus A Reed, Adjutant General
